

LIVING ROOMS

Along with being aesthetically pleasing, a home's public spaces should provide comfort and encourage conversation. The trio shown here accomplishes these goals beautifully, thanks to well-arranged seating and the careful selection of art and accessories.

Southwest meets Transitional in this warm, inviting space designed by Linda Seeger.

